

Wolf spider

Lycosidae

Adults: Among the most common spiders. Large. Typically brown to gray, often with a Body length: 6-25 mm patterned abdomen. The female wolf spider attaches her egg sac to the spinnerets at the end of her abdomen and carries it with her (see photo).

Diet/web: Hunt for prey along the ground, using visual and vibrational cues. Typically day-active; may hunt at night in warm climates. Does not make a web.
