

Policy on the Appropriate Use of AgBioResearch Funds

AgBioResearch resources are to be used in support of AgBioResearch projects.

AgBioResearch appointments are limited to those faculty members whose research is consistent with the AgBioResearch mission.

In addition to faculty salaries, AgBioResearch support may include:

- a reasonable share of basic support of the department, including administrative services and staff support.
- support of graduate assistants assigned to AgBioResearch supported faculty with AgBioResearch projects.
- research operating costs in direct support of AgBioResearch projects including technical support, supplies, materials, and appropriate travel.

All expenditures made on AgBioResearch accounts are subject to University policies and procedures as found in the MSU Manual of Business Procedures.
